

Washington State Genealogical Society
recognizes

Donna Potter Phillips

of Spokane, Washington

for exceptional and consistent support of the goals and operation of the Tri-City Genealogical Society

Donna Potter Phillips is recognized for her leadership, knowledge, and volunteer efforts toward the goals and operation of the Tri-City Genealogical Society (TCGS).

Ms. Potter Phillips has supported the Tri-City Genealogy Society as a member for many years even though her primary membership is with the Eastern Washington Genealogy Society. Ms. Potter Phillips has presented many genealogy lectures and classes for TCGS over the years, and has been called “my favorite teacher” by many. She plants the seed, fertilizes it and energizes her students’ interest in genealogy. When she talks, one wants to listen. She has also encouraged many TCGS members to “write their book.”

Ms. Potter Phillips is an inspiration to many and has been credited with “firing up” TCGS members’ genealogy research and writing their family history stories. She richly deserves this recognition.

Given this 15th day of August in the year 2014, at the annual meeting of the Washington State Genealogical Society at Arlington, Washington.
