

Washington State Genealogical Society recognizes

Veronica Anguiano

of Richland, Washington

for outstanding efforts in the cataloging of historical documents of importance and value to researchers interested in Benton and Franklin Counties

Veronica Anguiano has been selected by the Tri-City Genealogical Society (TCGS) as their recipient of the WSGS Outstanding Volunteer Award. She was selected for her commitment to researching and sharing information, even outside her local society.

Ms. Anguiano has distinguished herself in untiring support of the TCGS as its research chair and helping research Benton and Franklin county histories. Ms. Anguiano has responded willingly and efficiently to numerous requests for information from outside her local society.

Ms. Anguiano has become heavily involved in re-cataloging the TCGS library holdings so the holdings can be searched from the FamilySearch Library Catalog. As the holdings are re-cataloged, the new numbers are uploaded to the FamilySearch system, making them searchable from FamilySearch's online site.

Ms. Anguiano is a respected and diligent member of the TCGS, and richly deserves this recognition.

Given this 27th June in the year 2015, at the annual meeting of the Washington State Genealogical Society at Ellensburg, Washington.
