recognizes

Art Kelly

of Richland, Washington

for exceptional and consistent support of the goals and operation of the Tri-City Genealogical Society

Art Kelly has been selected by the Tri-City Genealogical Society (TCGS) as their recipient of a WSGS Outstanding Volunteer Award. He was selected for his dedication and enthusiasm to improve his local society.

Mr. Kelly joined the Tri-City Genealogical Society a few years ago after moving to the area. He immediately began to contribute to their success, volunteering wherever he was needed. Using his exceptional networking skills, he developed contacts throughout the community to advance TCGS event publicity. Last year Mr. Kelly took over organizing the programs for their monthly meetings and has provided a year of unique and exceptional presentations. After unexpected circumstances created a need to fill the vice president's position, Mr. Kelly stepped up, agreeing to serve.

The Tri-City Genealogical Society is a much better organization for his enthusiastic participation and effort. There is no doubt, Mr. Kelly richly deserves this recognition.

Given this 22nd day of April in the year 2017, at the annual meeting of the Washington State Genealogical Society at Yakima, Washington.
