

Washington State Genealogical Society

recognizes

Janis Littlefield

of Richland, Washington

for exceptional and consistent support of the goals and operation of the Tri-City Genealogical Society

Janis Littlefield has been selected by the Tri-City Genealogical Society (TCGS) as their recipient of a WSGS Outstanding Volunteer Award. She was selected for her commitment to advance the society's technological presence and efficiency.

Ms. Littlefield is the webmaster for the Tri-City Genealogical Society's website and is responsible for all TCGS digital records and archives. During the past year, she has volunteered hundreds of volunteer hours to the redevelopment and redesign of the society's website, incorporating current technology and providing an online dues payment capability for both TCGS and WSGS submittals.

Ms. Littlefield's unselfish dedication and willingness to share her talents for the good of the society is worthy of recognition as a Washington State Genealogical Society Outstanding Volunteer.

Given this 22nd day of April in the year 2017, at the annual meeting of the Washington State Genealogical Society at Yakima, Washington.
