Did you know that funeral homes might keep cremains for over 100 years? I received an email from a volunteer who works with a non-profit organization known as Missing in America Project (MIAP) www.MIAP.us. The purpose of the MIAP is to locate, identify and inter the unclaimed cremated remains of American veterans through the joint efforts of private, state and federal organizations, and to provide honor and respect to those who have served this country by securing a final resting place for these forgotten heroes. The volunteer had searched and discovered information on one of my great-grandmothers from my adopted family. She died in 1914, 7 years before her husband's death, and he had served in the military. Her cremains were identified but unclaimed and are still in storage at one of the Seattle funeral homes. When a military service connection can be made, options for burial are available.

"In the old days, your Grandma and I watched TV with rabbit ears."

In 1998, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Ellis Island, historic gateway for millions of immigrants, was mainly in New Jersey, not New York.
