Help your fellow Genealogists through the World!

With the school census record indexing almost complete there are some new projects that are starting as soon as the Society can get some volunteers to work on them. They are the following:

1. Index of Tri-City Herald Films

There are 360 rolls of microfilm covering January 1970 to June 2001. The project would be to index the following information: Births, Engagements, Marriage Licenses, Marriages, Divorces, Deaths and whatever else the group decides would be useful.

The Society needs someone to lead this project and then people to do the work.

This work will be done at the Richland Family History Center and will be done at you leisure. This would give you a good excuse to go the FHC and socialize if there are a group of you.

2. A complete name index of the past TCGS Bulletins. This will start out with a review of all issues to note the articles whose names are not included in the all-name index. This can be done from your home as the bulletins are digitalized.

If you are interested in either of these projects again
let a Board Member know.

mtg. Help is needed during this time of financial concerns.

HAVE A FAMILY BIBLE TO DISPLAY AT THE MCL FROM LATE JAN THROUGH MARCH.

The WSGS 2012 Outstanding Volunteer

Recognition awards process has started.

Generally, awards are given in two categories:

SUPPORT: In most cases the efforts of your honoree will fit the Support category "for exceptional and consistent support of the goals and operation of [their home] society."

RESEARCH: Volunteers whose work primarily is responding to queries or researching and publishing information in a journal or other media fit the Research category "for outstanding efforts in the identification, preservation, dissemination or publication of information of genealogical importance and value to researchers interested in the families of Washington State."

At this time I would like you to think about someone in our society that you would like to nominate for one of these awards for their actions in 2011.

Please send your nominations to one of the board members.

. Do not assume that the local records offices will be open just because you have made an unannounced thousand mile trip. Contact the local offices before your scheduled arrival just to be certain there will not be any unexpected closures. Also ask if there are days that the office is less busy (perhaps days when court is not in session). The short amount of time spent preparing may be well worth it. Local staff may even give you suggestions on where to stay.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN F. COVEY
TCGS PRESIDENT

There is a movement in progress to update the TCGS web site. First is a plan to update and rearrange the content in the web site to make it easier to browse and remove out of date information. In order to get this started two meetings will be held to look at the layout of the site and come up with suggests on changing the site layout.

The meetings will be on the following dates and times at the Richland Family History Center:

May 17 at 1 PM

May 23 at 7 PM

There are two meetings to allow those that work during the day to come to a meeting and be able to have their input added.

The web site is the genealogy world's view of our society, so it reflects on us. So please come to one of the meetings and help us update the site

If There's Not a Reason, There Better Be a Reason

Posted: 09 Sep 2012 04:04 AM PDT

I have a relative, born in Canada in the 1820s who for some reason moved to southern Missouri in the 1850s. It seems a little unusual to me and, at this point, I do not know the reason why he moved. What I do have a reason for is why I know it is the same man (his name, year and place of birth and the names of his children all match).

Genealogy Tip of the Day

By Michael John Neill

How Will You Handle Scandal?

Have you thought about how you will handle those family skeletons that you will eventually uncover? Give some thought to it before simply posting the entire story as a blog post or putting it in a public tree. Of course how you handle something from 1960 is different from something that took place in 1760.

If you don't have the reason for why your ancestor did something a little unusual, try and make certain you have good reason for believing it is the same person. Maybe the reason it seems like you have the "wrong person" is because you do.

ONLINE STATE RESOURCES - Compiled by Michael Hait Many researchers are unaware of the sheer volume and variety of records that have been brought online, at no cost, by government agencies and others active in individual towns, counties, and States. This CD provides a directory to online sites that offer record images and indexes nationwide, including: State and county archives; State libraries; State health departments; County clerks, recorders, probate courts, etc.; Historical Societies; Genealogical societies; University libraries; Public libraries; and others. The Table of Contents provides references to the state repositories so that you can go directly to your state of research. The home page for each repository is provided for reference. Many of these websites contain other resources—and new resources are added every day. Direct links to the content appear with each entry. (CD 950)
